

Rob Small

studied Fine Arts and Bio-Dynamic Agriculture . Resource Mobilisation Manager of Abalimi Bezekhaya . 2000 Abalimi came into the partnership within the Civil Society Meeting . 2001 member of the SA-delegation in Aachen . since 2009 Abalimi is project-partner of the Climate-Ticket (climate change mitigation and carbon sequestration) . “South Africa is in the transition between tribal cultures and modern individualism. We need to find the balance. - The seed of my work is inequity and injustice which are a great offence to me; I as a rebel, a heart-activist want to help the world heal. - The LA21 is the yeast that sets the whole cake rising. The partnership is the middle, is in the heart, in the sense of love; it is working with the head and the brain, and it is carrying progressive evolution and balancing around the middle; it’s a project with a real hope for the future; we are like a virus but good ones. – The partnership links up with my own spiritual path.”

love for nature & people patience & determination for the good practical idealism viva!